

VERONIQUE BARRILLOT, Dijon France

From my experience as a mural painter, I have learned to control visual distances that create optical illusions. I have developed an absolutely unique technique that allows me to superimpose two subjects so they are visible at different distances. These double visions express the point of view. Taking a step back allows the viewer to see another point of view. These paintings never fail to surprise the viewer no matter where they are exhibited: New York, Washington DC (French Embassy), Houston, Raleigh, Monaco, Paris (Grand Palais), Lille Art Up (Louis Dimension gallery), Lyon, or even in my workshop located at 15 Rue charrue in Dijon, France, where I invite you to come and experience your unique moment with my paintings.

Visit the Gold Coast Arts Center to see Veronique Barillot's original mural painted right on the exterior walls of the entrance.
