

JOANNE RAE ZELLER, Westbury, NY

With this representative work, Coming up for Air/Reprendre le Souffle, which includes found objects repurposed, mixed media, pastel and sand, the artist tells the story of coming up for air and breathing in renewal and hope Ms. Zeller encourages the viewer to honor the ocean and seas, to heal our planet and each other. Her themes are: A Call to Consciousness; Feeling and Creative Movement of Find moments of Natural Balance.

“Through the experience of making art, I have deepened my awareness of the environment, using my imagination and exploring the boundaries of the artist’s need to take risks. I create new images from found objects from the sea. I exhibit in the Long Island and New York community.
